What to expect

Western Water is here to provide you with superior service. Our Development Services team is your first and best resource, and we're committed to responsiveness and partnership.

Here's a quick overview of the development process with Western:

Pre-project coordination

We assist you in identifying your project's water and sewer service needs and guide you through initial steps such as Will Serve (Water Availability) letters, Fire Flow requests, and meter quotes.

Design and plan review

Our engineers will work with you to ensure your plans meet all design criteria and are ready for permitting.

Construction support

As your project moves forward, we'll support key milestones, inspections, and final tie-ins.

Project closeout

Once complete, we finalize record drawings, verify installations, and ensure your project is ready for long-term service.

Let's get started

To ensure a smooth process, we encourage you to schedule an appointment with our Development Services team.
